The Louisville Metro Housing Authority (LMHA) has been a part of a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) program called Moving To Work (MTW) which allows participating housing authorities to ignore the federal laws on allocation and even to pass changes to how Voucher and Public Housing residents are treated without going through the federal law-making process. Basically, allowing the latitude to unilaterally override federal law.

LMHA has used this power to move money out of Section 8 Vouchers and to decrease the potential number of low-income people served every year. MHC has commented on this travesty every year. However, now that the Housing Needs Assessment has identified the need for 32,000 new (additional) housing opportunities for those with incomes below 30% of median income, it becomes clear that LMHA has only contributed to the lack of affordable housing for those with greatest need.

The Section 8 Voucher program has been the program for the lowest income households for decades, as there is a federal mandate that at least 75% of households entering the program have incomes below 30% of median. Yet just this year alone, LMHA took $5 million from the Section 8 Voucher program which, according to their own estimate of the average assistance, would have served over 650 families: 75% of 650 is 487 families at the lowest income levels that are not being served just this year. LMHA has used the Section 8 Voucher program as a piggy bank for operations for as long as they have been MTW, so the cumulative amount of human misery they have not addressed is staggering.

While LMHA claims this is from a Project Based Vouchers, they are only perpetrating a fraud. The second way that LMHA is violating the Housing Needs Assessment is by not replacing the public housing that is being torn down- or double counting it. Beecher Terrace is not getting replaced with newly built replacement units. Instead LMHA is creating contracts with private vendors for already existing rental units, so there will be a net loss of 400 or more rental units in Louisville. But they double count those contracts to replace public housing as new Section 8 Project Based Vouchers. Either they are new or they are replacement- counting them twice is deceptive.

There are problems with the replacement units that will create hardship for people coming off the waiting lists, but in response to MHC’s comments, the only people LMHA addresses is current residents. They are turning a blind eye to those on the waiting list. Once again.

Property Tax Help Available

Property Tax time will soon be here and it is time to plan on how to pay those taxes if you are not currently being escrowed by a mortgage lender. Property Tax bills will be mailed to homeowners on November 1, 2019. If you know now that there will be a financial hardship created in paying that tax bill, there is help available. If you act BEFORE the end of November you may even take advantage of a 2% discount on the bill. LHOME, a mission-driven Community Development Loan Fund has limited funds available to assist in paying current and/or delinquent tax bills. We are located at Taylor and Berry Blvds In Louisville and exist to provide access to capital to areas of our community that have been financially underserved.

Our property tax loan product can not only save you 2% if applied before the end of November, it is available at a very low interest rate and avoids all late charges and penalties. Act now and save! If you apply during September or October you can be ready to take advantage of the discount and not worry about the bill when it arrives in November. We spread the repayment over 12 to 24 months. To qualify for this loan you must be the owner and occupant of the property being taxed and you must have a source of income which will allow repayment over time.

Don't wait until the last minute, call or email our chief loan officer Dan Farris today: 502- 657-1297, dfarris@lhomeky.org, www.lhomeky.org.
LHOME may also help answer questions about homestead and disability exemptions available if you qualify and have not previously applied. Don't wait, waiting is not your financial friend in this case.
